A CELEBRATION OF MOTHERHOOD – LAST CHANCE TO NOMINATE AUSTRALIA'S TOP MUMS

Do you know a great mum and want to show her how much she's loved and appreciated? With only two weeks to go before nominations close don't miss the opportunity to nominate a special mum in the 2010 Barnardos Australia's Mother of the Year Awards.

Nominations can be made via the Barnardos website – www.barnardos.org.au and close at midnight on 31 January 2010.

Whether it's your own mum – biological, foster or adoptive – your wife, partner, sister, friend, daughter, someone in the local community or anyone else who you believe is truly worthy of the title 'Australia's Number One Mum' – nominate them now.

The Barnardos Australia's Mother of the Year Awards are the only national awards which celebrate Australian motherhood and recognise the enormous contribution mothers make in shaping Australia's future generations.

"Barnardos cares for thousands of children who are robbed of the foundation of life – their childhood – so every year we hold these awards to show what an important role mums play in giving kids a good start in life," said Glynis Sequeira, Marketing Director of Barnardos Australia.

"Last year we were inundated with thousands of wonderful stories about amazing mothers from all around our country and this year we look forward to once again being inspired by Australian mums who day after day go that extra mile for their kids."

Barnardos are honoured to once again have the Governor-General, Her Excellency Ms Quentin Bryce AC as the Vice-Regal Patron of the Awards. Ms Bryce's longstanding commitment to the welfare of children and women's issues make her an outstanding patron of the awards.

Respected actor, Noni Hazlehurst, AM has been the national ambassador for the awards and for Barnardos for seven years. "These awards highlight the remarkable achievements of mothers all around Australia and recognise that mothers are often the unsung heroes not only in their own family but also in the community," she says.

Bernadette Black, a 32-year-old mother of three from Tasmania, is Barnardos Australia's Mother of the Year for 2009. Bernadette unexpectedly fell pregnant at aged 16 and she now works tirelessly to show single mums how life's adversities can be turned into positives and that with support and encouragement anything is possible.

"I felt overwhelmed, surprised and privileged to be nominated out of so many worthy mothers around Australia," Bernadette says. "I encourage everyone who knows a great mum to nominate her. It's a wonderful way to make her feel appreciated and loved."

Eight state and territory finalists will be selected from which the national winner will be chosen and announced at a special event in May 2010 – just prior to Mother's Day.

There are fabulous prizes to be won including a new car, Johnson & Johnson gift packs, a Telstra digital tutorial and a Samsung mobile phone and prepaid card, a Captain Cook cruise, Easyflower.com.au flower arrangements, Lindt chocolate gift hampers, Almay cosmetics hamper, a Canon camera and more.
